India sees strong tourism growth with 20.57 million foreign arrivals

BOTT DESK

India's inbound tourism recorded robust post-pandemic resurgence in 2024, with provisional figures showing international tourist arrivals reaching 20.57 million, exceeding pre-COVID levels of 17.91 million recorded in 2019. The data, released by the Ministry of Tourism, highlights sustained growth since 2020 despite global travel disruptions and reflects the country's increasing appeal as a travel destination.

According to the Bureau of Immigration figures, arrivals climbed steadily from 6.33 million in 2020 and 7 million in 2021 to 14.33 million in 2022 and 18.89 million in 2023, underscoring a strong upward trend over five years.

The Ministry pointed out that India's growth trajectory has outpaced overall regional recovery, with international arrivals surpassing 2019 benchmarks even as some neighbouring destinations lag. The latest UN Tourism Barometer indicated only limited regional recovery by 2024, with India emerging among the leaders in rebound.

Union Minister for Tourism and Culture, Shri Gajendra Singh Shekhawat, noted in a written reply to the Rajya Sabha that this performance results from targeted promotional efforts. Initiatives include participation in global travel exhibitions, familiarisation (FAM) tours for overseas tour operators and media, road-shows and cultural festivals abroad, and active engagement with tourism stakeholders to amplify India's destination appeal.

The government's continued focus on marketing, partnerships with state and union territory tourism bodies, and enhanced global outreach through digital platforms and influencer engagement have all played a role in reinforcing India's tourism brand internationally.

This growth reinforces expectations that international tourism will continue to be a vital contributor to India's economic recovery and cultural exchange, positioning the country as a compelling global travel destination heading into 2026. BOTT

highlights tourism revival, sustainability and film tourism

The Chief Minister of Jammu & Kashmir, Omar Abdullah, addressed members of the travel media at a press conference in Mumbai as part of the Chief Minister's 'Maharashtra and Gujarat Travel Fraternity Outreach Programme'. He was accompanied by Nasir Aslam Wani, Advisor to the Chief Minister, J&K; Syed Qamar Sajad, Director, Tourism Kashmir, and other prominent members from the J&K Tourism Department.

Shreya Shimpi

Positioning tourism as an economic lifeline and a cultural responsibility, Omar Abdullah, Hon'ble Chief Minister of J&K, said, "Tourism in Jammu and Kashmir goes beyond just the destination, as it is a source of livelihood for thousands of families intrinsically linked to the tourism industry. The Government is exploring avenues that are naturally available. Tourism is a fickle and sensitive industry, as it experienced a grinding halt post the Pahalgam attack, but active efforts are being taken for its growth and revival."

Speaking about film tourism, he said, "During our visit here, we have had interactions with the NFDC and the IICT. For me, the idea is not just for people to come and use the valley as a destination for filming songs and movies, merely as a backdrop. I want to create an ecosystem where part of the material and manpower requirement is met from within the valley itself. This will serve two advantages — it will make filming in J&K cheaper and will also create an avenue for employment. We also hope to do the same with the larger film industry beyond Bollywood, which would be the twin area of focus."

"We are working closely with the Government of India to develop nine green-field projects with multi-lateral funding. These destinations will be developed to a very high standard in terms of sustainability and local employment. My message to my colleagues in the tourism industry in J&K is that our success is not in bringing someone to Kashmir for the first time. It lies in ensuring that they wish to come back again and again."

He also threw light on promoting MICE, border tourism, and pilgrimage tourism. The evening concluded with a networking dinner with key members of the travel trade fraternity, where he expressed heartfelt gratitude to travel associations and agents for supporting tourism's growth after the tragic attack. BOTT

AEROPRIME

Building the future of India's aviation ecosystem

As India rapidly advances toward becoming a global aviation and logistics hub, Aeroprime Group is emerging as a key enabler at the intersection of airlines, airports, cargo and technology. Abhishek Goyal, CEO & Executive Director, Aeroprime Group, shares insights on alignment, market readiness, cargo transformation and the evolving role of private players in shaping India's aviation future.

Priyanka Saxena Ray

Aeroprime sits at the intersection of airlines, airports, cargo and technology. How do you ensure alignment across these verticals while keeping customer outcomes at the centre of decision-making?

At Aeroprime, we view these verticals as interconnected parts of a single ecosystem. Alignment begins with a clear understanding that our end customer, whether an airline partner, cargo client or travel trade stakeholder, expects seamless outcomes, rather than fragmented services. We ensure this through integrated teams, shared data visibility and a strong technology backbone including our proprietary digital platforms such as GLID, which connect commercial, operational and customer-facing functions. Every strategic decision is evaluated through the lens of customer impact, whether it improves speed to market, enhances revenue quality, or simplifies processes.

As India positions itself as a global aviation and logistics hub, what gaps still exist in the ecosystem that private players like Aeroprime can help bridge?

One key challenge is the disconnect between infrastructure development and commercial readiness, particularly for international airlines and cargo operators entering or expanding in India. Private players like Aeroprime can bridge this gap by offering market intelligence, localized sales expertise, digital enablement and integrated go-to-market strategies. We play a crucial role in translating policy intent and infrastructure investments into commercially viable operations by supporting airlines and logistics players with distribution, cargo sales, regulatory navigation and trade engagement. This execution layer is essential for India to truly function as a global hub.

Cargo has emerged as a strong growth driver post-pandemic. How is Aeroprime reimagining cargo sales, digital processes and partnerships to support India's export ambitions?

At Aeroprime, we are reimagining cargo sales by combining traditional market relationships with data-driven demand forecasting and digital tools that improve visibility across the value chain. We are investing in digitized booking processes, real-time performance tracking and closer collaboration with freight forwarders, exporters and airport stakeholders. By aligning airline capacity with India's evolving export needs, especially perishables, pharmaceuticals and e-commerce, we aim to create more predictable, scalable cargo solutions. BOTT

TATHASTU WILDLIFE RESORTS

Building sustainable luxury in India's Tiger heartland

Known for its immersive, nature-driven experiences across India's leading tiger reserves, Tathastu Wildlife Resorts has carved a unique space in experiential hospitality. With sustainability embedded at its core, the brand continues to expand thoughtfully while deepening its commitment to conservation awareness and community engagement.

Anil Agarwala, Managing Director, shares how Tathastu balances eco-sensitivity with guest comfort. The resort is represented by Terra Tales in Delhi NCR.

BOTT DESK

How do you balance sustainability, guest comfort and commercial viability while operating in ecologically sensitive destinations?

Tathastu's journey began in 2011 with the construction of our very first resort in the Pench Tiger Reserve. From the moment of conception, sustainability and guest comfort over commercial viability was not an afterthought—it was the foundation on which Tathastu was built.

Over 1,500 varieties of plants were thoughtfully planted to recreate the immersive feeling of living within a jungle, while seamlessly blending in the comforts of modern luxury. Every element of the landscape was carefully planned so that rainwater from every inch of the property is efficiently harvested and diverted into our lakes. A well-designed network of canals, underground pipelines, natural slopes, and drains ensures that not a drop of water is wasted.

To nurture this dense plantation responsibly, the entire property is equipped with the Israeli drip-irrigation system, ensuring optimal water usage with maximum efficiency.

Equal importance is given to waste management and resource regeneration. All waste generated is processed through STP, ETP, and Bio-Compost pits. The residue is reused as organic manure, completing a sustainable closed-loop ecosystem.

At Pench, this belief comes alive through our Mud Rooms, constructed using layered mud walls that naturally regulate indoor temperatures—enhancing guest comfort, reducing energy consumption, and ensuring long-term viability.

With growing demand for experiential travel, what are Tathastu

Resorts' expansion plans?

Over the past three years, Tathastu has commenced commercial operations across four key wildlife destinations—Kanha, Tadoba, Bandhavgarh, and Satpura.

We have also acquired land parcels in Panna, near Khajuraho, and in Sanjay Dubri Tiger Reserve, near Bandhavgarh. Construction will begin soon as our operational footprint strengthens.

My vision is simple: Wherever there is a Tiger in Central India, Tathastu should have a presence.

What are your key growth priorities for the coming year?

While new destinations remain important, our key priority this year is deeper community engagement.

We aim to challenge the mindset that holidays must only mean beaches or mountains but also wildlife. BOTT

5 tips for Indian travellers planning a cruise in 2026

The decision to book a cruise holiday is always an exciting one and sometimes in this excitement, we end up making choices which may not be aligned with our holiday needs. Nishith Saxena, Founder & Director, Cruise Professionals shares some tips which may help make a better choice when booking a cruise vacation.

Book Early

Booking your cruise early is one of the smartest ways for Indian travellers to secure the best value and experience. Early reservations unlock the widest choice of cabins along with the lowest fares and attractive offers such as onboard credits, beverage packages and special promotions. With more time in hand, guests can plan visas, flights, stays and shore excursions while avoiding last-minute price surges and limited availability.

Buy Insurance

Indian passengers booking a cruise should always purchase travel insurance because it provides essential financial protection and peace of mind. Cruise insurance covers unexpected events such as trip cancellations, medical emergencies abroad, missed departures, baggage loss and itinerary disruptions. Since cruises sail far from home ports and medical treatment onboard or overseas can be costly, insurance ensures access to emergency care and evacuation support.

Book through your trusted travel agent

Indian passengers should always book a cruise holiday through their trusted travel agents. These agents ensure authenticity, correct pricing and provide reliable end-to-end support. They guide on cabin selection, visa requirements, documentation, insurance and destinations. In case of schedule changes or emergencies, they can coordinate directly with cruise line representatives for faster resolution and customer protection.

Premium include more value

Indian passengers should consider booking a premium cruise when they seek a more refined, spacious and personalized holiday experience. Premium cruise lines offer higher staff-to-guest ratios, superior dining, more inclusive amenities and thoughtfully designed itineraries, resulting in a less crowded and more relaxed journey.

Big or small – the choice is yours

Different types of cruise ships – big and small – offer distinctly different experiences. Large ships deliver a vibrant resort-style atmosphere with entertainment, multiple dining venues and family activities, ideal for multigenerational families and first-time cruisers. Smaller ships provide a more intimate environment with personalized service, fewer crowds and access to unique ports, appealing to travellers seeking destination-focused journeys. BOTT

NORTHERN EUROPE

The new frontier for Indian Outbound Travel

Tejbir Singh Anand, Managing Director, Holiday Moods Adventures feels that Indian outbound market is witnessing a clear and exciting shift, with travellers increasingly turning their attention towards Northern Europe—especially Scandinavia, the Nordic region, and the Arctic Circle.

A clear shift is underway in Indian outbound travel, with a newfound interest and growing demand for Northern Europe—particularly Scandinavia, the Nordic region, and the Arctic Circle countries. This rise is driven by several compelling factors, from climate considerations to the lure of extraordinary, once-in-a-lifetime experiences.

With overtourism impacting many parts of Europe, travellers have already explored much of East, South and West Europe. Add to this the reality of climate change, where summer temperatures in these regions now often touch 40°C, and the appeal of cooler, pristine northern landscapes becomes obvious. Northern Europe is fast emerging as the perfect escape—refreshing, scenic, and still relatively uncrowded.

Scandinavia itself comprises three kingdoms—Norway, Sweden and Denmark—each offering distinctive natural and cultural richness. However, it is important to note the broader definition of the Nordic countries, which also includes Finland, Iceland, and associated territories such as Greenland, the Faroe Islands and Åland. Together, they represent some of the most aspirational bucket-list destinations in the world today.

Social media and influencers have further accelerated interest, showcasing magical experiences such as the Northern Lights (September to mid-April), the midnight sun (June to August), reindeer and husky sledding, snowmobile adventures, Arctic wildlife encounters, and skiing from December through April. Unique attractions include Norway's king crabs, deep fjords and dramatic mountains, the Lofoten Islands' white-sand beaches, Finland's Santa Claus celebrations and glass igloos, Iceland's year-round whale watching, frozen sea adventures, polar icebreaker cruises, and even snow hotels operating throughout the year. Add Viking history, heritage mansions, treetop hotels, scenic rail journeys and luxury cruising along Norway's coastline and the Baltic archipelagos, and the region becomes irresistible.

Connectivity is also improving significantly. Direct flights to Copenhagen—gateway to Greenland, Faroe Islands and Svalbard—are being introduced by airlines such as IndiGo, Air India and SAS from June 2026 from Delhi and Mumbai. Visa processes through Norway and Sweden are also becoming quicker and smoother.

The next phase of growth lies beyond capital-only itineraries. Specialist companies like Holiday Moods Adventures are empowering the travel trade to promote deeper, experiential journeys. Promoted by Arshdeep Anand and myself, Holiday Moods Adventures is a B2B Destination Strategist & Specialist (DSS), ISO 9001:2015 certified, Forbes India listed, National Geographic Adventure top-rated, and globally awarded since 1997. We are also distributors in India for cruise brands including Swan Hellenic Cruises, Havia Voyages, Viking Line and Silja Line—helping Indian travellers discover the true magic of the polar world. BOTT

Is travel assistance the new essential for every journey?

In today's fast-moving travel landscape, disruptions are no longer the exception but the norm. Over 25 million bags are mishandled globally and more than 35% of flights face delays exceeding 60 minutes. While travel demand has returned, journey quality often hasn't. Insurance may reimburse losses later, but travellers need something more immediate — real-time help, support, and on-ground assistance when things go wrong.

BOTT DESK

Dev Karvat, Founder & CEO, ASEGO

Recognising this shift, ASEGO has launched ASEGO BOLT+, a powerful new travel assistance bundle created by combining three of its most effective services—TrackMate, WaitMate, and ChatMate. Together, they deliver rapid response and real protection, exactly when and where customers need it most.

TrackMate enables global, real-time baggage tracking across all airlines and routes, with guaranteed compensation of up to ₹66,000 per checked-in bag (up to two bags) if the luggage isn't recovered within 96 hours.

Similarly, WaitMate automatically activates premium lounge access if a flight is delayed by more than 60 minutes—offering travellers comfort instead of frustration. Coverage extends across up to four flight segments in a single trip and includes access to over 1,300 lounges across more than 100 countries.

Adding another layer to this assistance ecosystem is ChatMate, ASEGO's global connectivity solution that ensures travellers stay connected from the moment they land.

With instant international eSIM activation across multiple countries, ChatMate eliminates the hassle of searching for local SIM cards, unreliable Wi-Fi, or expensive roaming charges—enabling travellers to access maps, airline updates, emergency support, and stay connected with loved ones without interruption.

This isn't just a service upgrade — it's a mindset shift. Travel assistance is no longer an add-on; it's becoming a baseline expectation. As a travel advisor or booking partner, offering BOLT+ is more than an upsell — it's about being proactive, customer-centric, and aligned with what modern travellers truly value: peace of mind and dependable support.

ASEGO BOLT+ empowers travel agents to move beyond selling destinations and start offering dependable journeys. It's time to think beyond insurance and give your customers a protection layer that actually travels with them. Whether it's a family vacation, a corporate itinerary, or a solo international trip, assistance like this transforms stress into trust. BOTT

Eastern Globe's priorities are centred on responsible expansion, deeper destination expertise, and long-term value for travellers and local communities. # UK sees strong growth momentum from Indian tourists: VisitBritain highlights 2030 forecast

At a recent closed-door media roundtable in India, Her Excellency Lindy Cameron, British High Commissioner to India, and Gary Robson, Deputy Director – India, Europe & GCC, VisitBritain, underlined the growing strategic importance of Indian outbound travel to the UK, supported by strong connectivity, rising visitor spend, and increasing interest beyond London. Also present on the occasion was Ritu Varma, Country Manager – India, VisitBritain.

Priyanka Saxena Ray

Her Excellency Lindy Cameron, British High Commissioner to India, and Gary Robson, Deputy Director – India, Europe & GCC, VisitBritain

India continues to strengthen its position as one of the UK's priority tourism markets, with visitor numbers expected to rise sharply over the coming years. Speaking at the interaction, Lindy Cameron highlighted the enduring cultural and economic ties between the two countries, backed by a vibrant Indian diaspora of over 1.9 million people in the UK and strong bilateral business presence, with more than 1,000 Indian-owned companies in Britain and over 650 UK firms operating in India.

Tourism, she noted, plays a powerful role in deepening these connections while supporting jobs and regional prosperity across the UK. "India is a priority market for Britain, and the story ahead is a confident one," Cameron said, adding that Indian travellers are increasingly exploring destinations across England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland, not just London.

VisitBritain shared strong forward-looking projections, forecasting that Indian visitor numbers will grow from around 650,000 in 2025 to nearly one million by 2030. Visitor spending is also expected to cross the £1 billion mark by 2026, rising further to £1.6 billion by 2030, representing growth of nearly 74 per cent.

A key driver of this expansion is enhanced air connectivity, with over 170 weekly flights between India and the UK, including increasing access to regional gateways such as Manchester and Birmingham.

Gary Robson emphasised tourism's vital economic role, noting that the sector contributes £147 billion to the UK economy, accounting for nearly 5 percent of GDP. "India is becoming one of the most valuable contributors to that story," Robson said. He added that Indian travellers are staying longer, spending more on premium experiences, and seeking personalised journeys rather than standard itineraries.

The discussion also highlighted changing traveller preferences, with rising demand for luxury, cultural immersion, weddings, and experience-led travel. More than 56 percent of Indian visitors now spend nights outside London, reflecting the success of efforts to promote regional Britain.

Ritu Varma said that the focus remains on working closely with the travel trade to curate experiences that match evolving Indian expectations. "Indian travellers are looking for meaningful, memorable journeys, and we are committed to ensuring the UK remains welcoming, inspiring and relevant for them," she said. BOTT

DISCONNECT TO RECONNECT

Rediscover Family Time at Sea with

Star Dream Cruises

In today's fast-paced world, it often feels like we are always connected — to our phones, our deadlines, and endless routines — yet somehow disconnected from the people who matter most. That is why my cruise holiday with StarDream Cruises felt like the perfect pause — a chance to truly 'Disconnect to Reconnect'.

Shreya Shimpi

As I embarked on the majestic Genting Dream for my 3N4D sailing from Singapore to Phuket, it felt like opening a box of chocolates- you never know what you are going to get! The magnificent ship welcomed us with warmth and its signature world-class hospitality. I checked into my cosy Oceanview Balcony Stateroom. Lunch at The Lido felt like a culinary journey with a delightful spread of flavours and cuisines, ensuring that every guest found something to enjoy. Enjoying the 'Dhokla' and 'Chhas' miles away from home, felt incredibly comforting! A friendly cricket match on the deck with friends was an enthralling experience. That evening, the Zodiac theatre was filled with the appetising aroma of caramel popcorn (a must-have onboard!) and the avant-garde performers bowled us over with spellbinding acrobatics and scintillating dance performances.

After enjoying a sumptuous dinner at the Dream Dining, our group enjoyed a memorable conversation garnished with hearty jokes at the lounge by the deck. The nip in the air, sea breeze and seeing the ships sail by made the moment magical. As I retreated to my room that night, I enjoyed a quiet moment by myself as I poured myself a coffee and sat in the balcony. This felt like my moment- Disconnecting with everything to reconnect with myself under the starlit sky with the moon and the song of the ocean for company. The second day unfolded at a leisurely pace with a shore excursion to Patong Beach, followed by dinner before returning to the ship.

Day three brought an adrenaline rush with zip lining, offering idyllic panoramic views of the sea. The other activities, such as rock-climbing and water slides too looked equally exciting. The Foam Party that evening unleashed the inner child in me and was one of the most fun experiences onboard. The Red Carpet Gala that evening was all about glitz and glamour with everyone dressed their best and keeping the style quotient high. The highlight was meeting the Captain of the Ship and getting a picture with him! The gourmet dinner at The Bistro felt ambrosial, and desserts Squisito!

The fourth day, we disembarked the ship biding an emotional farewell- a heart full of memories to be cherished for a lifetime. The trip was the perfect retreat to 'Disconnect to Reconnect' with my family, friends and above all- Myself! BOTT

"The skies met the ocean and the waves greeted me with a smile,

Beyond Beaches and Temples

Odisha's bold adventure Tourism Vision

Odisha is steadily carving a distinct identity on India's tourism map—one that goes beyond heritage temples and cultural richness to embrace the fast-emerging world of adventure travel. Recognising the immense potential of this high-growth segment, the state has notified the Odisha Adventure Tourism Guidelines 2025, a forward-looking framework aimed at building a safe, regulated and sustainable adventure tourism ecosystem.

BOTT DESK

Globally, adventure tourism has witnessed a sharp rise in demand, driven by travellers seeking immersive, experience-led journeys. Odisha, with its extraordinary diversity of landscapes—pristine coastlines, expansive wetlands, forested hills, rivers and valleys—is uniquely placed to become a year-round hub for land, water and aero-based adventure activities. The newly introduced guidelines provide the much-needed structure to harness this opportunity responsibly, while ensuring ecological balance and community participation.

According to the Tourism Head, Odisha Tourism, the guidelines are an integral part of the Odisha Tourism Policy 2022, and are designed to unlock new tourism circuits across seasons. "Adventure tourism is among the fastest-growing segments globally, and Odisha's natural assets make it a compelling destination. The framework ensures transparency, regulation and sustainability, while encouraging growth in a niche that can significantly boost visitor interest,"

A key pillar of the initiative is safety and regulation, often considered the biggest challenges in adventure tourism. Odisha has introduced a robust multi-tier institutional mechanism to ensure strict compliance. The framework includes the State Level Advisory Committee (SLAC), State Level Technical Committee (SLTC), Adventure Tourism Technical Cell (ATTC) and District Level Committees. Every adventure tourism project will undergo detailed scrutiny—covering site assessments, safety audits, equipment certification and manpower verification—before receiving a License to Operate.

The guidelines also mandate regular inspections, surprise audits, annual safety certifications, and the establishment of a dedicated Rescue and Communication Grid to ensure preparedness and swift response in case of emergencies. This institutional backbone reinforces Odisha's commitment to making adventure tourism both exciting and secure for travellers.

Equally significant is the state's emphasis on encouraging private sector participation through an investor-friendly, asset-light approach. Entrepreneurs, tour operators and institutions are being invited to be part of the adventure tourism growth story through a simplified approval mechanism. A dedicated Go-Adventure Portal will streamline applications, approvals, renewals and compliance processes, while defined timelines and incentives—including capital investment subsidies under the tourism policy—make the ecosystem predictable and attractive for responsible operators.

Odisha's adventure tourism portfolio is among the most diverse in the country. The state plans to promote aero-sports such as paragliding, hot air ballooning and air safaris, along with land-based experiences like trekking, rock climbing, zip-lining and ATV trails. Water-based adventures such as kayaking, snorkelling, scuba diving and river cruising will be developed across iconic destinations including Chilika, Satkosia, Hirakud, Deomali, Daringbadi, Puri and Gopalpur. Importantly, these activities will be carefully zoned, geo-referenced and developed with environmental sensitivity.

Marketing and community involvement form the final cornerstone of Odisha's strategy. The state is adopting a digital-first promotion approach, supported by influencer collaborations, participation in national and international travel events, and familiarisation trips for operators and media. At the grassroots level, local communities—especially youth—will be empowered through training, certification and employment opportunities, ensuring adventure tourism becomes a tool for inclusive socio-economic development.

With the Odisha Adventure Tourism Guidelines 2025, the state is making a decisive, future-ready push to emerge as one of India's leading adventure tourism destinations—structured, safe, sustainable, and globally competitive. BOTT

marks 10 years of specialist-led growth

Marking a decade in destination management, Kazin DMC has built its reputation on deep expertise, strong on-ground teams and a pure B2B approach. From Kazakhstan to a growing CIS portfolio, the company has expanded with intent while keeping service quality at its core.

Gunjan Sabikhi

Looking back at 10 years, what would you say were the pivotal moments or decisions that shaped Kazin's journey and helped it stand out in a competitive scenario?

One of our most defining decisions was choosing depth over scale. From early on, we structured Kazin so that each team specialises in one destination only — no individual handles multiple portfolios. This is not the most cost-effective model, but it is essential for quality and accountability. Product knowledge and local nuances cannot be diluted. While many DMCs operate with teams juggling several destinations, we consciously avoided that. Alongside this, remaining a pure B2B partner, investing in strong on-ground teams, and building our proprietary CRM to empower agents were pivotal choices that shaped Kazin's identity as a dependable, specialist-driven DMC.

Over the years, how has your growth strategy evolved and what role have acquisitions and partnerships played?

Our growth has been measured and intentional. We expand only when we can replicate the same operational depth, destination expertise, and service DNA. Strategic partnerships with tourism boards, airlines, hotels, and local stakeholders have played a vital role in building credibility. The expansion into Uzbekistan through acquisition and Armenia through structured partnerships reflects our belief that growth should strengthen capability, not dilute standards.

Indian outbound travel trends have shifted significantly. How has Kazin adapted, and what are the key learnings from promoting the CIS region?

Indian travellers today seek experiences, flexibility, and value. We adapted by curating immersive itineraries, strengthening Indian-friendly services, and equipping agents with deeper destination understanding. A key learning has been that education drives confidence — once agents understand the region well, demand follows naturally.

As Kazin enters its second decade, what are your top priorities?

As we enter our second decade, our focus is on selective expansion into Europe, supported by the setup of a dedicated Europe sales office to tap into this highly lucrative market. Alongside this, we will deepen specialisation across MICE, luxury, and experiential travel. Continued investment in technology will further simplify partner decision-making and ensure that scale never comes at the cost of trust. BOTT

BRAND USA TRAVEL WEEK INDIA

sets a new benchmark deepening USA - India tourism momentum

Brand USA Travel Week India concluded recently in Bengaluru (January 19-22), marking a landmark moment in the United States' tourism engagement with one of its most significant outbound markets. This year's edition witnessed an exceptional turnout, with the largest-ever delegation of U.S. destinations and tourism partners travelling to India. The atmosphere throughout the week reflected strong optimism, growing synergies, and a shared commitment to expanding travel between India and the United States.

Priyanka Saxena Ray

The structure of the event was both strategic and engaging. Mornings were dedicated to timed, targeted one-on-one business meetings, enabling Indian travel trade professionals to connect directly with U.S. destination representatives, suppliers, and Brand USA leadership. Evenings, meanwhile, brought the industry together in a more informal setting—filled with food, laughter, cultural exchange, and networking—creating a vibrant space where partnerships deepened beyond the boardroom.

"As a priority growth market and a key driver of visitation to the United States, bringing Brand USA Travel Week to India was a clear choice," said

Fred Dixon, President and CEO of Brand USA. "India now ranks second globally for total visitor spending, with Indian travellers generating $24.4 billion in the United States in 2024 alone. This expanded platform is designed to strengthen collaboration, build the right travel products, and expand distribution as we work together to grow the market."

India's importance to U.S. inbound tourism continues to rise sharply. In 2024, Indian travellers accounted for 6 percent of overseas arrivals to the United States (excluding Canada and Mexico), up from 4 percent in 2019. Arrivals surpassed 2 million in 2025 for the second consecutive year, with visitation remaining nearly 40 percent above pre-pandemic levels. Forecasts indicate travel from India could reach 2.3 million visitors by 2028, reinforcing the market's long-term strategic significance.

The event also introduced Brand USA's upcoming Global Ambassador Program, aligned with America's 250th anniversary celebrations. Launching in March 2026, the initiative will recruit 250 travel trade ambassadors worldwide to strengthen engagement across priority markets.

Reflecting on the week's success, Sheema Vohra, Managing Director, Sartha Global Marketing, said: "Brand USA Travel Week has been a fantastic week for us. Now elevated to a Travel Week format, we're truly excited about the energy and momentum we've seen here. A big thank you to our partners in India, both travel trade and media, and to all the U.S. destinations who travelled here—this truly reflects America's commitment to the Indian market."

With mega-events such as the FIFA World Cup 2026, the 100th anniversary of Route 66, and the America 250 celebrations on the horizon, Brand USA Travel Week India concluded with renewed enthusiasm and clear momentum. The event brought together nearly 75 U.S. destination partners with leading travel trade, media, and senior decision-makers from across India. U.S. participants engaged with over 90 travel trade professionals and 30 travel and lifestyle journalists through dedicated Trade, Media, and C-Suite tracks, supported by targeted one-to-one meetings and educational programming. The week not only strengthened commercial partnerships but also reaffirmed India's position as a powerhouse market shaping the future of U.S. tourism growth.

In Conversation

JACKIE ENNIS,
Vice President – Global Trade Development, Brand USA

Brand USA recently launched the “America the Beautiful” campaign. How does it connect with Indian travellers?

We are incredibly excited about “America the Beautiful.” India is one of our key target markets, as it should be, given its scale and growth. The campaign is built around pillars that resonate strongly with Indian travellers—family travel, outdoors, luxury, and wellness. It speaks directly to what motivates Indian visitors today: meaningful, multi-generational and experience-led journeys. What has been especially impressive is that the response from India so far has been among the highest across all our global target markets.

What is Brand USA's outlook and target for the India market going forward?

The forecast for 2026 is around 2.1 million Indian visitors, and that is certainly our immediate target. Of course, we would love to see that number grow even further.

India is a priority growth market, and we are committed to expanding partnerships, promoting new destinations, and sustaining this momentum.

How is Brand USA supporting Indian travel agents and the trade ecosystem?

One of our strongest resources is the USA Discovery Program, our online travel trade training platform, which was relaunched in 2024. It has seen terrific engagement from Indian agents—not only as a certification tool, but also as a trusted resource platform. In today's world, where there is so much information and even misinformation online, it is important for travel professionals to have curated, accurate content. The platform also enables agents to share inspirational itineraries directly with clients, making it an effective sales tool—especially as demand grows for newer and more diverse U.S. experiences.

The Charismatic Trailblazer of the Cruise Industry

From hotels on land to hospitality at sea, here is the remarkable journey of a dynamic leader whose inspiring odyssey of twenty-two years in the travel industry stands out. His efforts have pioneered a new wave in the arena of cruising, marking a noteworthy legacy at sea. Anchored in experience and driven by vision, Naresh Rawal, Senior Vice President, Sales and Marketing, StarDream Cruises, speaks about his memories, milestones, and his vision for India on the global cruising map in an exclusive chat with BOTT.

What inspired you to enter the travel industry and how has it shaped you as a travel professional?

I have always been a hotelier. After completing my hotel management, my entire professional journey has been rooted in the hospitality industry—whether with the Taj Group or with McDonald's. It was during this phase that an opportunity with Star Cruises came my way, to join as Senior Manager – Marketing. I decided to take the leap, largely because cruising felt like 'Hotels at Sea'. That connection to hospitality drew me in, and as luck would have it, I joined Star Cruises in 2003—marking the beginning of what has now been over 21 years in the cruising industry.

Interestingly, this was my first role in the travel industry, and since then, my entire career has been dedicated to cruising. I joined the company on 15th January 2003, with my very first day spent onboard the SuperStar Virgo. We all grew up with her, and we used to call her the 'Mother Ship'.

What is your long-term vision with StarDream Cruises?

The company is gearing up for major expansion, with plans to explore multiple new ports. As the industry matures, this is the right time to be part of cruising—the most rapidly evolving segment of travel. Over the years, the market has come to appreciate the advantages of cruising over land-based holidays, and the industry is now poised for its next big growth phase.

Talking about travel memories, sometimes there are great memories and sometimes they are not so great. Can you tell us one of those memories?

We are in the business of creating memories. I don't believe we are in the business of selling cabins—we create experiences that stay with guests long after they leave the ship. You see it all around you onboard: smiling faces, families walking together, guests constantly taking photographs. For me, that's the clearest indicator of happiness.

As for not-so-great memories, I honestly don't think there are any specific ones. Every day is different, and every guest is different.

Tell us something about your family and a cherished memory, probably from childhood or with your family.

I am an Army kid and have grown up across the country due to my father's service in the Army. It instilled a deep sense of discipline in me. He retired as a Colonel. My mom was a teacher. I'm blessed with two kids. My elder daughter, Mehak, is a home-based chef specializing in bakery and patisserie. My son, Jai, is currently in the US, studying film at the New York Film Academy, with aspirations to build a career in advertising. BOTT
